[4] Water (WR)

The use of water-saving devices at the university

The use of water-saving appliances at the university helps to reduce water consumption and reduce utility costs. This is especially important for educational institutions where a lot of people use water for various purposes. Wastafel

Examples of water-saving technologies:

- touch faucets;
- double flush toilets;
- rainwater collection and purification systems;
- leak sensors;
- use of dishwashers and washing machines with water-saving functions.

The introduction of such technologies allows the university not only to take care of the environment but also to save resources, which reduces utility costs.

[4.3] Water Efficient Appliances Usage (e.g. hand washing taps, toilet flush, etc.)

Water Efficient Appliances Usage

Water Efficient Appliances Usage (UzSWLU)

Description:

During the reporting period, the following activities were carried out under the Water Efficient Appliances Usage program:

1. The audit of the water supply systems revealed several leaks that were eliminated.
2. Additional leak sensors have been installed in several classrooms and corridors.
3. A study has begun on the possibility of introducing a rainwater collection and purification system.
4. A program has been developed to replace old water taps and faucets with new, more efficient models.
5. Training of university staff on the use of water-saving technologies and the importance of their implementation has been organized.

The implementation of these measures has made it possible to increase the efficiency of water resources use at the university and reduce utility costs.

Appliance	Total Number	Total number water Efficient appliances	Percentage
Toilet	250	250	60%
