[5] Transportation (TR)

The University parking lot is a specially designated place for parking cars of students, faculty, and staff of the university. It can be located on the territory of an educational institution or next to it.

Parking lots are usually equipped with special signs and markings that help drivers navigate and comply with parking rules. Video surveillance cameras can also be installed to ensure safety and control compliance with the rules.

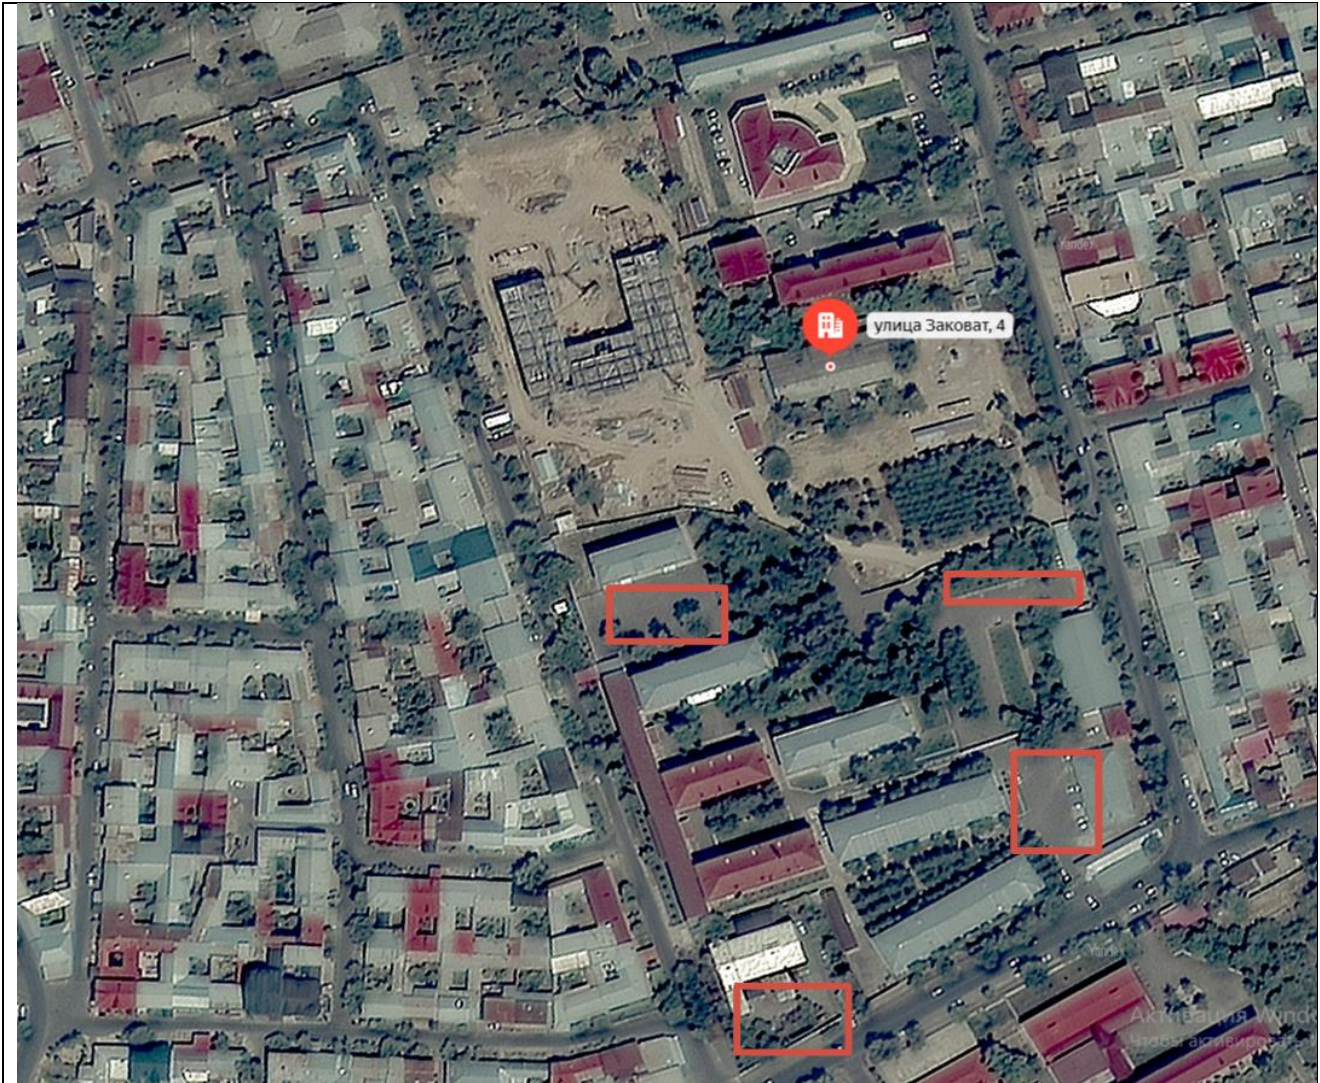

Certain rules and restrictions may apply in the university parking lot, for example, a ban on parking in certain places or a restriction on the time a car stays in the parking lot. This is done to ensure safety and order on the university grounds, as well as to prevent overloading of parking spaces.

Description:

For the convenience of visitors, various services can be provided in the parking lot, such as:

- Electronic passes. Electronic passes can be issued for regular visitors, allowing them to quickly and conveniently enter the parking lot.
- Tow truck services. In case of a violation of parking rules or an accident, the car can be evacuated from the parking lot to the impound lot.
- In general, the university parking lot is an important element of the educational institution's infrastructure. It provides convenience and comfort for visitors, as well as contributes to maintaining order and security on the university grounds.
