[6.9] Number of Activities Organized by Student Organizations Related to Sustainability (2024–2025)

At the Uzbekistan State World Languages University (UzSWLU), student organizations are the main catalysts of sustainability culture and youth engagement in environmental and social responsibility.

Through active cooperation between the Youth Union “Yoshlar Ittifoqi”, the Ma’naviyat va Ma’rifat Department, and the International Rankings Department, the university has established a consistent model of student-led sustainability education.

During the 2024–2025 academic year, UzSWLU student organizations implemented more than 265 sustainability-related activities, encompassing environmental, social, cultural, and health dimensions.

These events directly contributed to the realization of UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) — especially SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-being), SDG 4 (Quality Education), SDG 13 (Climate Action), SDG 15 (Life on Land), and SDG 17 (Partnerships for the Goals) — by combining theoretical awareness with community action.

Student organizations not only plan and execute such events but also integrate sustainability values into every semester’s agenda, ensuring that green thinking becomes a permanent part of student life and leadership development at UzSWLU.

Key Sustainability Activities (2024–2025)

1. Eco-Environmental Actions

- Waste-Free Day campaign (March 30), jointly organized with the Tashkent Department of Ecology and Environmental Protection to promote zero-waste habits.

Impact

- Over 12,000 students directly engaged in sustainability activities during 2024–2025.
- A new Eco-Volunteers Network was formed, now active across all faculties and dormitories.
- The number of female participants in environmental leadership events increased by 27% compared to last year.
- Students led over 20 campus-wide campaigns addressing recycling, tree planting, and energy saving.
- Strengthened cooperation with government and NGO partners to organize cross-sectoral events.
- Enhanced visibility through official media: sustainability initiatives were featured more than 50 times on UzSWLU’s official website and Telegram channel.
- Several events were also covered by national media outlets, showcasing UzSWLU as a model of youth-led environmental action.

These efforts have transformed sustainability from isolated initiatives into a core identity of UzSWLU’s student culture, emphasizing responsibility, innovation, and collaboration.

Conclusion and Strategic Outlook

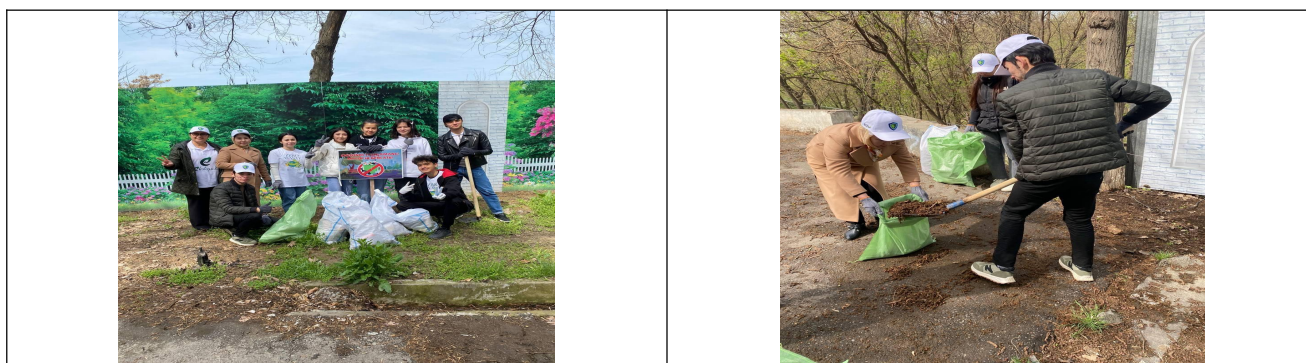

Student organizations at UzSWLU have evolved into powerful youth-led engines of sustainability transformation.

Through coordinated annual plans, cross-faculty partnerships, and international participation, they have ensured that sustainability is not an occasional activity but a continuous, year-round mission.

The steady increase from 215 events in 2023–2024 to 265 in 2024–2025 clearly reflects a strategic institutional shift towards environmental responsibility and sustainable education.

These initiatives show how language education can go beyond classrooms to inspire green citizenship and lifelong eco-values among young people.

UzSWLU thus stands as a leading example in Uzbekistan for integrating sustainability into every aspect of university life — from academic programs to student initiatives and global collaboration.

In connection with the designation of March 30 as Waste-Free Day by the Tashkent Department of Ecology, Environmental Protection, and Climate Change, a clean-up campaign was organized to remove litter collected along the roadsides. This initiative aimed to improve the environment and raise ecological awareness among the public.

On September 16, in honor of World Cleanup Day, we would like to share an inspiring story with you. In collaboration with the "Ekolog" public association, the Tashkent City Department of Ecology, and the Faculty of Media and Communications of the Uzbek State University of World Languages, a plogging event was organized on Qatortol Street. From students to nature lovers and socially responsible eco-volunteers, participants became true eco-heroes today, setting an example for everyone on the street. The participants collected a significant amount of waste, contributing to the cleanliness of one of the busiest streets in our city, Qatortol Street.
