

KNOWLEDGE-EXCHANGE EVENTS WITH FARMERS AND FOOD PRODUCERS

SDG 2 Zero Hunger | Reporting year 2025

1. Overview

UzSWLU organizes events that bring together researchers, agricultural specialists and policymakers to exchange knowledge on food security and sustainable agriculture, and its agricultural scientists meet farmers and farm workers directly on their farms. Under Section 12 of the UzSWLU Sustainable Food Policy (policy document), the University shares its expertise with local farmers and food producers through open lectures, seminars and consultations.

2. International conference on food security

On 24 May 2025 UzSWLU hosted the international scientific and practical conference “Global Environmental Problems, Desertification and Food Security”, organized together with the international scientific journal Science and Innovation and opened by the Rector, Ilxomjon Tuxtasinov. One of the four sections of the conference was devoted to food security and agriculture. Speakers included the Chairman of the Ecological Party of Uzbekistan, Abdushukur Hamzayev, Doctor of Agricultural Sciences, together with researchers from UzSWLU and other universities (uzswlu.uz/en/news).

The conference sections were:

- Ecology and environmental protection;
- Food security and agriculture;
- Green resources and green transformation;
- The role of foreign languages in studying global environmental problems.

3. On-farm knowledge exchange

Professor Dilorom Yormatova, Doctor of Agricultural Sciences, of the Department of Ecology and Green Resources works directly on farms with farmers and farm workers. In Andijan region she meets agricultural specialists and farmers in Jalaquduq, Oltinko'l, Xo'jaobod, Bo'ston and Izboskan districts to introduce the planting of soybean between cotton rows, and in Qo'rg'ontepa district she works with a farm enterprise on an ongoing basis. During these visits she demonstrates cultivation practices, trains farm workers in crop care and distributes her agrotechnology books (gujum.uz; gujum.uz).
