

UZBEKISTAN STATE WORLD LANGUAGES UNIVERSITY

Shared Sports Facilities with the Local Community

Scheduled community access | School partnerships | Sports institutions | Angren Faculty

Uzbekistan State World Languages University shares its sports facilities with local residents, school pupils and partner sports institutions in Tashkent city and Angren city in Tashkent Region, free of charge. Access is coordinated in advance and organized through an agreed schedule. Community and partner groups may also use the facilities at weekends when this has been arranged in advance and does not conflict with the University's teaching, training or competition program.

Access model

Access is organized rather than unrestricted, and is provided at no cost to schools, community groups and partner institutions. A school, partner institution or community group agrees the date, time, participant group and intended activity with the responsible university unit. The University then allocates an available indoor or outdoor sports space and coordinates entry, supervision and safe use of the facility, without charging a fee for its use.

Weekend access. Schools, partner organizations and community groups may request weekend use. Approval depends on availability, the university events calendar, staffing and safety requirements. This arrangement allows local users to access existing facilities while protecting scheduled student classes, team training and university competitions.

Facilities made available

- University sports complexes and indoor sports halls used for organized volleyball, basketball, futsal, table tennis, fitness activities and competitions.
- Outdoor sports grounds used for football, running, physical conditioning, street workout and other scheduled activities.
- Fitness equipment and supporting spaces used with organized activities, including participant and changing areas where available.

Community users and partner institutions

The principal community users include residents and school pupils from the Chilanzar and Uchtepa districts of Tashkent city, as well as residents and school pupils in Angren city who use the facilities of the University's Angren Faculty. On 16 April 2025, UzSWLU also signed memoranda on cooperation and joint activity with local sports-school partners and the Republican Center for Preparation in Olympic and Paralympic Sports. These arrangements provide an institutional basis for joint sports activities, healthy-lifestyle promotion, practical engagement and volunteering.

How shared use is managed

- A partner institution submits or communicates a request identifying the proposed date, participant group and activity.
- The responsible university unit checks the academic timetable, sports calendar and facility availability.
- The parties agree a time slot. Weekend use can be approved when the facility and responsible personnel are available.
- Participants enter under the agreed institutional arrangement and use the allocated facility for the approved purpose.
- The activity is supervised and recorded through schedules, permissions, event information or photographic evidence.

Institutional and community value

The shared-use arrangement extends the value of university infrastructure beyond enrolled students and staff, at no cost to participants. Pupils from Schools No. 131, 188 and 232 in Chilanazar District and Schools No. 74, 118 and 268 in Uchtepa District gain additional opportunities for organized physical activity. Local residents in these districts and community users in Angren city also benefit from free access to university sports spaces. At the same time, UzSWLU strengthens cooperation with schools, neighborhood communities and youth-sport institutions.

The model is based on controlled access rather than open public entry. Scheduling makes it possible to share facilities responsibly, including at weekends, while maintaining safety, supervision and the University's own academic and sporting commitments.
